THE ROSE IS LEGEND—HISTORY—ROMANCE

Shakespeare wrote: "Of all flowers, methinks a Rose is best."

Today—four hundred years later—the Rose remains universally accepted as the Queen of Flowers.

Whoever has walked at dawn through a field of roses must share this sentiment. Freshened by the coolness of night, each waxy petal is heavy with dew and picture-perfect. The rich fragrance of rose perfume hangs just nostril high on the still morning air. Every bud, every full blown rose is sheer delight—inspiration of poets—soul of songs—symbol of love down through the ages!

Although we are growing roses commercially for the wholesale trade, we watch and wait each year for their first blooming as the beauty and glamour of acres of roses in full bloom is a thrill ever new.

In the Ontario and Chino valleys of Southern California we have under cultivation 65 acres in roses. Here in this location, we have the advantage of abundant sunshine, good soil, and controlled irrigation and strive constantly to bring you better plants. We feel greatly compensated for our years of hard work by the pleasure and enjoyment we get from the rose itself and from the many letters we receive from satisfied customers.

Again this year we offer you a fine selection in varieties. We invite you to look over the list and will be pleased to hear from you any time. Your suggestions and criticisms are always welcome. To serve you is our business and pleasure.
